

The Pueblo lived in the desert. Walking was their only means of transportation.

The Pueblo farmed desert land using irrigation to bring water to the dry land.

The Pueblo lived in the deserts of the Southwest.

The Pueblo lived in multi-story dwellings called adobes.

The Pueblo lived in villages, and didn't move around.

The Pueblo adapted to their dry, desert surroundings. They irrigated the land to make it fertile.

