

Latin IV AP
Vocab 44-45

anteferō, anteferre, antetuli, antelātus: to put in front, prefer appropinquō [1]: come near, approach contendō, ere, contendī, contentus: compete, fight; hurry; insist inquam, inquis, inquit: say simultās, simultātis: jealousy, rivalry exīstimātiō, -ōnis: judgment, opinion irrupō, ere, irrūpsī, irrūptus: break into, rush into; force a way into iudicō [1]: pass judgment on, judge; decide, determine mūnitiō, -ōnis: fortification, rampart nē . . . quidem: not even vāllum, i: rampart of earth; earthworks vereor, verērī, veritus sum: revere; fear, dread, be afraid of cāsus, cāsūs < cadō: accident, chance, misfortune.

cōnor [1]: try, attempt exanimō [1]: to kill facultās, facultātis: power; opportunity; resources immittō, immittere, immīsī, immissum: direct toward or against moror [1]: delay, hinder; linger, hang back ūniversus, a, um: all together, whole verūtum, ī: dart, spear, javelin cōnfestim: immediately, at once incolumis, e: unhurt, uninjured laus, laudis: praise, commendation; renown, popularity, glory rūrsus: again, back, anew, in turn subsidiū, ī: reserve force, help subveniō, īre, vēnī, vēntus: come or go to help, aid certāmen, inis: combat, strife, struggle, contest honestus, a, um: honorable, worthy, distinguished, eminent intus: within, on the inside magis, adv: more, rather; superl. maximē: especially perfugiō, ere, fūgi, fugitum: flee for refuge, take refuge; desert ūllus, a, um; gen ūllius: a single, any