The modern literary detective first made its appearance with C. Auguste Dupin who was created by the American author Edgar Allan Poe in the early 1800's. He was followed by one of the greatest fictional detectives of all time, Sherlock Holmes, who was created by British author A. Conan Doyle in the late 1800's. What did these two characters have in common? What was unique to each one? We will compare and contrast them; that is, we will explore the similarities and the differences between these two characters.
