

Vet 4/5 Practice Exam Review

1 Are cold packs are usually used for major surgeries?

2 Cats are true _____ with special health needs and should be fed a _____ diet.

Describe a proper isolation area? What is associated with this area? What type of disinfectant is appropriate? What measures should be taken to control the spread of disease?

4 Describe cleanliness as it relates to kennels?

5 Describe effective methods used to prevent the spread of disease by staff members.

6 Describe how to safely use a cage dryer.

7 Describe Parvo including: symptoms, species affected, zoonotic?, bacteria or virus?

8 Describe the physical differences between the toy poodle, miniature poodle and standard poodle.

9 Describe the proper order when disinfecting a kennel.

Disease can be spread from a staff member's clothing to another animal. What procedures can help to reduce the spread of disease?

11 Do large gauge needles or small gauge needles have a larger diameter?

12 Does an x-ray badge protect you from being exposed to radiation?

13 Does X-ray radiation appears as white light to the human eye?

14 Give examples of PPE. Be able to determine whether an item is considered a PPE.

15 Horses should always be lead from what side?

How can we estimate a cat's weight in kg when we know its weight in lbs? Estimate the kg of a cat that 16 weighs 13 lbs?

17 How can we stimulate a swallowing reflex in a cat?

18 How can you calculate an animals pulse rate if you only feel for the pulse for 10 seconds?

19 How is FeLV is often spread?

20 How might an owner describe their bond with their pet?

21 How should needles and scalpels be properly disposed?

22 How thick should the bedding in a horse stall be?

23 If it is not written down, what can we assume?

24 If you make a mistake while working at a clinic, how should you handle the situation?

Name the breeds of dogs, cattle, swine, sheep, goats and horses that we have studied in this program. Be able to identify a species given a breed name.

26 The _____ is very energetic and bright, making training them relatively easy.

27 The direct smear method is especially helpful for diagnosing what type of organism?

28 The power supply for generating radiographs comes from the _____.

29 The urine collection technique most likely to be contaminated for culturing is 30 TPR stands for? What are the appropriate ranges for dogs, horses and cats?

31 What are some ways can you grow in your personal knowledge?

What are the different routes of administration for injections? Which route of administration should a veterinary staff use for quickest effect?

32 What are the different technique used to obtain urine samples? Which provides the most sterile sample?

33 What are the ways that people view their pets?

34 What does EIA stand for? What species does it affect? How do we test for it?

35 What does MSDS stands for?

36 What hazard is presented by loose boards in a horse stall?

38 What information given by the pet owner should we pay special attention to?

39 What is a dosimeter badge?

40 What is the acceptable range of time for collecting fecal samples?

41 What is the most common tool of restraint for horses?

42 What is the most common way to restrain a non-aggressive cat?

43 What liquid do we use in the autoclave?

44 What message might a clean reception area tells clients?

45 What product(s) can you use if you trim a dog's nail too short?

46 What should be placed in the sharps container?

47 What should clean the ultrasound probe with?

48 What should you do immediately if an accident occurs?

49 What solution is used for soaking instruments after cleaning them?

50 What viruses/bacterias are killed with bleach?

51 When a pet is in a cage dryer, how often should you check the animal?

52 When are mosquito hemostatic forceps used? What tool is used for large blood vessels?

53 When examining a fecal sample under the microscope, what are you looking for?

54 When handling and controlling an animal, we should always keep our eyes on what part of the dog?

55 When is hydrotherapy used?

56 When is it allowable to ignore PPE?

57 When is it safe to open the autoclave?

58 When is it safe to use a dip? What animals are safe to have a dip? What does a dip do?

59 When on a lift exam table, dogs will generally try to jump off when? Why?

60 When taking a dog's temperature, he should be in what position?

61 When unloading cattle from a trailer, we should minimize all gaps to what range of length?

62 Which breed will likely have skin problems.

63 Which canine breeds have a higher than average rate of hip dysplasia?

64 Which cat/cats are good for people with allergies due to their fine haircoat?

65 Which disposal option might involve a knowledge of local laws?

66 Which dog breed is pre-disposed to back problems?

67 Which item(s) must be disposed of in a sharps container?

Which of the following are not carrying agents for disease causing bacteria: saliva, hair, blood, feces, and 68 urine?

69 Which position in a clinic would need to use ear plugs regularly?

70 Which product is carried in a fluid base?

71 Which retriever has water resistant qualities to their haircoat?

72 Which two breeds were used to create the Great Dane?

73 Why is it important not to hold the head too high while restraining for a jugular vein blood draw?

74 Why might clients rely entirely on your recommendations?
