

Cheap Essay Writing Service Online

Europe, America and Asia have their own peculiarities in the matter of school education. There are interesting traditions. For example, in Uruguay, a teacher is greeted with a kiss on the cheek. Every Japanese school has a full-time nutritionist. And in North Korea, they are promoting hatred of the United States. They give children toy guns and allow them to shoot portraits of American politicians. And they also sing songs that make fun of America.

Express info on the country

Children 11-18 years old can not use slang in conversation. It is forbidden to say "hello" and "bye", and instead of these familiar words, we should say "hello" and "goodbye". It is also forbidden to abbreviate words. In schools in the UK, only literary language is permissible. Thus, the authorities are trying to improve the culture of adolescents' speech and promote the expansion of their vocabulary.

In kindergartens and schools in Vietnam, an innovation yoga. During the school day, children spend one hour on yoga. It is believed that this is the way to help the child concentrate and reduce anxiety, which will best affect the performance. In this country, a community education program is being developed, involving the training of children from distant villages who are not able to reach schools. Trainee teachers are sent to such villages for several years and pay them minimum wages.

Cheap Essay Writing Service Online

In France, the first school is the "parent school", where they are engaged in the preparation of kids 2-3 years old. At 5 years old, the child must start learning to read. Primary school lasts 5 years, then 4 years the children go to college. Then 2-3 years of high school or lyceum. After that, students can decide on their own specialization. By the way, French schools are considered the best in Europe.

In this country there are 13 schools where there is no timetable or homework. Such schools were created with the support of the organization Vittra. Children learn at their own pleasure, classes in schools are made like play rooms. Pupils learn only those things that they like. How effective this approach is will be clear over time. But these schools are becoming increasingly popular in the country, although the public education system does not recognize this format.

If the child does not want to go to the blackboard, they do not call him, without giving a bad mark. For children of primary school age, this is a salvation from stress, but for older ones, this approach works differently: if you do not want to go to the blackboard, then you are weak in character. Therefore, high school students try not to exercise such a right for no particular reason. By the way, children go to first grade in Finland from the age of 7.

In the country, homeschooling is prohibited by law. Perhaps education officials consider it to be ineffective. Therefore, if a child without a valid reason is not in class, his parents can be fined!

Get Cheap Essay !!

You can see that there are several examples on the page where all the fields are filled in automatically. Choose the function - Solution and get a ready-made detailed calculation. At the bottom of the page you can leave a comment and see the questions of other users.

On our limit calculator you can easily calculate the limit function. The calculation of the value will be made in the shortest possible time, which will significantly save your time. Calculation, definition, finding values is now available to everyone!