

Characters in Catcher in the Rye by J.D. Salinger

Holden Caulfield –age 16

Phoebe Caulfield—age 10 red-head sister of Holden

Allie Caulfield—Holden's oldest brother (deceased)

D.B Caulfield—Holden's older brother—living in Hollywood

(Jane Gallagher)—Never actually appears in person, but Holden has a mad crush on her.

Sally Hayes—Holden's very attractive ex-girlfriend.

Two Nuns—Holden meets them, by chance, in a restaurant.

Ward Stradlater—Holden's obnoxious roommate at Pencey.

Robert Ackley—A dorm "friend" of Holden's at Pencey who has horrible habits.

Mr. Spencer—Holden's history teacher at Pencey who is visited by Holden before Holden leaves the school.

Mrs. Morrow—Mother of Pencey student Ernest Morrow. Holden met her on the train.

Faith Cavendish—Date of Princeton student Holden met. First person he call when he get to his hotel in New York. She has an "unusual" profession.

Three girls from Seattle in their 30's—Holden meets them at the bar in the Edmont Hotel.

Lillian Simmons—D.B.'s ex-girlfriend Holden happens to meet in Ernie's, a Greenwich Village bar.

Sunny—A prostitute Holden with whom Holden just wants to talk.

Piano player at Wicker Bar—Comments to Holden when Holden is obviously drunk.

Carl Luce—Snobby schoolmate from Pencey who was also Holden's Student Advisor.

Mr. Antolini—"...the best teacher I ever had..." Holden visits him in New York...