Vending machine

A vending machine is used to deliver four different items, a person is required to insert a coin when an inductive sensor detect the coin the person can order only one of five different items, a DC motor rotates to deliver the ordered item; once the item is passed out a fiber optic sensor sends a signal to stop the motor.

Create the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.

Otherwise the ladder diagram that can be used to control the mentioned machine.