

Rising Greek 3 Review Schedule

1. PLAN: How much time will you spend, and when will you do it? Enter the date to begin each chapter review and carve out time in your schedule. The book has 14 chapters, so 2 per week is a good pace.
2. BEGIN: On your Start Date, read through the chapter and scan the exercises in the workbook. Is there anything you are struggling with, or is it all pretty easy? Spend time practicing your weak spots.
3. TRANSLATE: Sight-read the workbook translation if you can. If it is challenging, work it out on paper.
4. VIEW: Watch the recording. Is there anything you still feel shaky on? Does the translation make sense?
5. REVIEW: Focus your review. If you have time, do all the exercises in the workbook; if not, spend your time wisely by using the workbook exercises that you need most.
6. MOVE ON: When you feel confident, mark that chapter “complete.” Until then, part of your review time can be going back over that concept until you feel like you have earned that checkmark.

The first two lines are examples of how you could use this schedule

Chap	Start Date	Finish Date	Review Notes	Complete
21	6/22	6/24	Review subjunctive forms of α-contract and o-contract verbs	✓
22	6/25		Practice translation of indefinite/general clauses
17
18
19
20
21
22

Chap	Start Date	Finish Date	Review Notes	Complete
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30				