

Chapter 12 Section 3 (Last 2 subheadings)

1. Who made it clear that he was against the doctrine of nullification but did not want to drive the South out of the United States?
2. Jackson got his opportunity to state his position on states' rights on what special occasion?
3. The issue of states' rights would be a major political issue until what terrible conflict was decided?
4. What state nullified the tariff acts and threatened to separate from the Union?
5. Who argued that it was not the states but the people who made the Union?
6. Who made the toast that liberty was more important than keeping the states together?
7. Over what was the Webster-Hayne debate argued?
8. What had Jackson threatened to do if South Carolina defied federal laws?
9. Who argued that nullification gave states a lawful way to protest?
10. Who came forward with a compromise tariff in 1833?

Chapter 12 Section 3
(Last 2 subheadings)

- B 1. Andrew Jackson
- J 2. Thomas Jefferson's birthday dinner
- G 3. Civil War
- A 4. South Carolina
- E 5. Daniel Webster
- C 6. John C. Calhoun
- H 7. doctrine of nullification
- F 8. "hang the first man..."
- I 9. Senator Hayne
- D 10. Henry Clay