

Chapter 16 Section 1 (Last 4 subheadings) Part 2

1. What strategy did the North develop that was designed to smother Southern economy?
2. In order to capture the Southern capital of Richmond, VA. the North first had to fight the South at what location?
3. What was it that was most helpful to the North?
4. What did the South depend on to win foreign support?
5. Besides a larger population and double the railroad mileage what else did the North have more of?
6. What Southern general was said to stand "like a stone wall"?
7. What was used to prevent goods or people from going into or out of an area?
8. Besides defending their own homes and fighting a defensive war what other advantage did the South have?
9. As the war progressed what position did the South begin to take?
10. What was the capital of the South?

Chapter 16 Section 1
(Last 4 subheadings) Part 2

- A 1. Anaconda Plan
- G 2. Bull Run or Manassas
- C 3. Lincoln's leadership
- F 4. King Cotton
- H 5. factories
- B 6. General Thomas J. Jackson
- I 7. blockade
- E 8. able generals
- J 9. the offensive
- D 10. Richmond, VA