PERSONALS

It seems like yesterday that I was telling you about the “ins” and “outs of first grade at Back to School Night- and suddenly it’s summer!

The children have learned so much this year. Please take time to read and enjoy your child’s journal. You will be able to see his/her progress in creative writing. It’s a treasure you’ll want to keep.

Have fun, relax, enjoy one another and have your rising second grader read and write each day. Continue to practice memorizing the addition and subtraction facts to 10.

Helping and watching your children grow this year has been a treat. I know each of them will continue to blossom next year.

I am very appreciative of all of your help and cooperation this year.

Thank you,
Michele

HAPPY SUMMER
