

Using your white periodic table, WHAT IS THE:

- _____ Symbol for potassium
- _____ Symbol for silver
- _____ Symbol for carbon
- _____ Symbol for zinc
- _____ Atomic number for oxygen
- _____ Atomic number for lithium
- _____ Atomic mass for magnesium
- _____ Atomic mass for sulfur
- _____ Mass number for fluorine
- _____ Number of protons for helium
- _____ Number of protons for silicon
- _____ Number of electrons for neon
- _____ Number of electrons for iron
- _____ Number of neutrons for nitrogen
- _____ Number of neutrons for sodium
- _____ Family name for mercury
- _____ Family name for argon
- _____ Family name for bromine

OVER - - - - - ➔

Using your white periodic table, WHAT IS THE:

- _____ Symbol for potassium
- _____ Symbol for silver
- _____ Symbol for carbon
- _____ Symbol for zinc
- _____ Atomic number for oxygen
- _____ Atomic number for lithium
- _____ Atomic mass for magnesium
- _____ Atomic mass for sulfur
- _____ Mass number for fluorine
- _____ Number of protons for helium
- _____ Number of protons for silicon
- _____ Number of electrons for neon
- _____ Number of electrons for iron
- _____ Number of neutrons for nitrogen
- _____ Number of neutrons for sodium
- _____ Family name for mercury
- _____ Family name for argon
- _____ Family name for bromine

OVER - - - - - ➔

Write your own element PUN:

19. _____

Write your own ELEMENT CODE. Design 3-5 clues for element symbols that will spell out a common word.

20. _____

a. _____

b. _____

c. _____

d. _____

e. _____

Write your own element PUN:

19. _____

Write your own ELEMENT CODE. Design 3-5 clues for element symbols that will spell out a common word.

20. _____

a. _____

b. _____

c. _____

d. _____

e. _____