Signs and Symbols

Sign v. Symbol Sign - An object that represents something else - Often only has one meaning - Examples: stop sign, yellow light, %

Sign v. Symbol (Continued)

Symbol:

May have more than one meaning

Meaning is attached to its very nature

Evoke emotions and deep responses from us.

What is a Symbol?

Something visible, concrete, or observable through the senses (can be touched, seen, heard, smelled, etc.)

THAT REPRESENTS

Something invisible or abstract (emotion or

Sign v. Symbol

Sign:

Symbol:

We make up signs and designate their meaning.

Have an inherent meaning that we discover and relate to our experiences

Cultural and Universal Symbols

Cultural: particular to a group, place, society, time, etc.

Universal: recognized throughout the world and across cultures.

Examples: MTV, kissing Examples: Water, tree, on the cheek.

fire.

Symbols can have both positive and negative associations.

Example of negative: Fire may symbolize danger.

Example of positive: Fire may symbolize something sacred.

Literal Thinking

- Concerned with facts.
- Observed through the senses.
- Interprets at face value.
- Does not recognize deeper significance in human experiences.

Symbolic Thinking

Objects, relationships, and experiences have many meanings.

Uses ordinary language to express something extraordinary or profound.

