

Unit 2: Things you can do

7. cen(s)

- a. censor
- b. censure
- c. census

to assess, judge

Latin

(cens, to assess + -or, someone who)

One authorized to examine books or other material and to suppress what is considered objectionable.

(cens, to judge + -ure, act, process, function of the body)

An expression of strong disapproval or harsh criticism.

(cens, to assess)

An official count of a population.

8. clam, claim

- a. clamor
- b. clamant
- c. reclaim

to call out, shout

Latin

(clam, shout + -or, someone who or something that)

A loud outcry; a hubbub.

(clam, call out + -ant, one who)

Demanding attention.

(re-, back or again + claim, call out)

Recover or assert right to something.

9. dol(or)

- a. doldrums
- b. dolor
- c. dolorous

to feel pain, grieve, suffer

Latin

(from dold, to dull)

A period of depression or unhappy listlessness.

(dolor, to feel pain)

Sorrow; grief.

(dolor, to feel pain + -ous, having the quality of)

Marked by sorrow, grief, or pain.

10. -drome

- a. hippodrome
- b. airdrome
- c. palindrome

to run

Latin & Greek

(hippo, horse + -drome, to run)

A sports arena for equestrian shows.

(air, air + -drome, to run)

An airport.

(Grk > palin, again + -drome, to run)

A word, phrase, verse, or sentence that reads the same backward or forward; for example Madam, I'm Adam.

11. err(a)

- a. errand
- b. error
- c. erratic

to wander

Latin

(erra, to wander)

A short trip taken to perform a specific task.

(err, to wander + -or, someone who or something that)

An act or belief that unintentionally deviates from what is correct.

(erra, to wander + -ic, related to)

Having no fixed or regular course; wandering.

12. fal

- a. false
- b. fallacy
- c. fallible

to deceive

Latin

(fal, to deceive)

Contrary to fact or truth.

(fal, to deceive + -acy, state or quality of)

A false notion or belief.

(fal, to deceive + -ible, able to be or do)

Capable of making a mistake.